CHAPTER 4

BRIAN MEETS TWO SIBLINGS WHO SUPPOSEDLY WERE HIS CHILDREN

It has been a long time since you haven't heard from me, so I approach myself to talk about something specific: I never knew I had two little children! Yes, as you read it out, I have children.

But that's not a matter of what I am writing on this blog. On the contrary, I am instead focusing on an adventure I was facing a long time ago. Although the Spirit Contact project I posted had its positive effects, it also had its secondary effects! My cousin, in fact, had summoned the spirits the occult couple contacted on my behalf of me. Furthermore, meanwhile, the occult couple summoned the spirits of saints, my cousin, in fact, summoned the spirits of

1. Joseph Smith The Mormon: My cousin contacted the spirit of this religious leader for his spirit to explain to him the Book of Mormon (he was contacted through Facebook by two separate groups of Pennsylvania Mormon missionaries. At that time, I had become an Agnostic, and I was a revolutionary young man at that time. I was making fun of my cousin by ignoring him with his themes. After four months of attending LDS chapels, he later left and came back to his Baptist Church.

2. The spirits of Martin Luther, John Calvin, and Ulrich Zwingli: He contacted these three pioneers of the Protestant Reformation on behalf of abortion. He wanted to change the minds of pro-abortion churches inside the US (even though he hadn't gone there in that time) and summoned the spirits of Martin Luther, John Calvin, and Ulrich Zwingli to specifically influence his thought system, so he could reform our university's leftist theology. And it was indeed a success because the university passed from being a liberal university to becoming a confessing movement-tied university, and a pioneer of the Latin American Confessing Movement.

In fact, he only summoned the four spirits of these religious leaders to make a revival inside Argentina, then Latin America. And the spirits conceded him the desire and behold, it came to pass the confessing movement inside the US, and later expanded to Western Europe and thus.
In fact, he only summoned the four spirits of these religious leaders to make a revival inside Argentina, then Latin America. And the spirits conceded him the desire and behold, it came to pass the confessing movement inside the US, and later expanded to Western Europe and thus.

Unfortunately, he became a victim of the left-wing movements. These criminal organizations contacted gypsy families to curse him, and it was a success. He had been counting his days because the success he was expanding through the confessing movement was tormenting from the past.

Indeed, the Romas sacrificed evangelical Christians because of my cousin and asked Lamia (the demon they contact for revenge) to partner with Moloch, and Lilith to take evangelical Christians to hell, and Lamia became the patron demon of the left-wing guerrilla and paramilitary groups to attack evangelical Christians. It was a success. While Lamia partnered with Lilith to torment evangelical Christians and take people to hell, the left wing instead performed Enochian magic to bring him death. And it was! In 2009, he was murdered by the left. The impact and reaction from the media? Simple! The media praised his death, the press celebrated his death on behalf of harassed minors he used to. But not only that, but, but his murder was also praised by the media.

The death of my cousin was hard, but suddenly, he was charged with serious and grave felonies. This is his period:

In 2005, he finally traveled to the United States. Specifically, to New Holland, the native city of Victor Frankenstein. He enrolled as a graduate student at New Holland Evangelical Theological Seminary, an interdenominational seminary. He later moved to Hungary to earn his Ph.D. in Theology at the Karoli Gaspar University of the Reformed Church in Hungary. In Hungary, it was there where he exploded his theological knowledge and took them to the other level: He later became the Latin American director of the Institute on Religion and Republic and became an ordained minister of the Western Branch of American Anglo-Catholicism.

But what happened to his legacy? It is unknown about the reasons he was killed, as well as the area where he was supposed to live inside. But it is known that he nicknamed himself “The Protestant Summoner”. He had indeed a small business inside Hungary, where he sold his services. His services? Evocation rituals! He was almost expelled from such a university in Hungary but thank God he was not.

Now, back to the theme, I haven’t realized I had two cute, but evil kids I had left in abandon. While I was writing this blog, I realized that the bell of my house sounded. I thought it was a desperate client, but it was not. It was an Arabic-like couple that was true with two kids.

—Brian Alveiro Muschietti Rendón— Asked the lady

—Yes? — I replied a little scared and nervous— Who are you?

—Well, I just need to talk to you, sir— the man said to me—

I had no idea who these people were, but when they entered the business, I realized they came with two masked creatures with dark clothes and full hidden heads.

—I know that you are an intelligent and wise young man who is having this wonderful business for everyone! —Replied the lady—I will leave you with these two cuties

I thought I was wasting time with these kinds of people, but I was not. After all, they left me with the creatures.

I decided to ask the creatures about them. They suddenly asked me to unmask them. And I did it. I realized that they were two little children. The innocence, exuberance, and exaggerated cuteness of these two children made me cringe. Their skin was of a gold tone, their hair was so shiny that it could reflect on them, and their tender faces were not such a thing. I decided not to yell, or scream because of their purity and innocence.

—Was it such a thing?—Replied one of the children, whose name is Teona— Don't be scared, I'm just as pure as you can't think it. I know all the knowledge you have!

—My sister is right—Replied the other children, whose name is George— We did have a mother.

—Mother?—I asked— I have never had a woman—

—Do you think so?—Asked Theona— Let me read you the hand, please—

I left the little girl reading on the left palm of my hand, and it came to pass so long that I could see even the future mine as I would repent from having summoned the Demons, Angels, and Spirits that had influenced negative witnesses across Iberian America.

After she finished reading my palm, I decided to take a pulse and behold the two innocent and tender children helping me in order to not harm anyone I love.

So, we were three (The boy, the girl, and me), and our business even grew a little bit more inside Argentina, Chile, Colombia, Brazil, and Spain (the countries which had more visits from my website) and our website had reached more than seventeenth thousand viewers and followers!

THE PROTESTANT SUMMONER SHOP

The Protestant Summoner converts into an international store, selling products (Like herbal baths, candles, and novenas in rare languages), but most of that, the evocation rituals service was the top service I could even offer.

What were the services? The services were:

Angelic and Spirit Evocation:

Well, all of my work with my two children was based on evocation rituals. We often contacted spiritual beings (such as Guardian Angels, or spirits of saints) in order to offer a change in the lives of people (most of all, evangelical Protestant Christians who were curious about looking to convert to Roman Catholicism).

Consecration Services:

Based on the instructions of Fr. Aaron Leitch and following his courses on Goetia, and Grimoire Magick, we offered this service at an affordable cost to any people wanting to consecrate any object of theirs. There were two types of consecration: By mass and via Enochian magic. That said, the little girl was an expert in this magical technique. We often received requests from people around the world (more specifically Latin America) about Enochian consecration, and suddenly, they were blessed with these consecration rituals.

Something wonderful about this service is that we were using consecrated oil from the LDS Church (a success among us). It all began when a Mormon missionary visited our small store after he received a brochure from our services. The missionary became so fascinated with the consecration services we offered he sought to buy our Enochian consecration service and as a reward, he delivered to us a copy of the Book of Mormon. So, with my talented “children”, we sacrificed all of our time in translating the Book of Mormon into Enochian language for him to invoke the Spirit of Joseph Smith.

Archangel/Saint Blessings:

The little boy was an expert in this field, he was very creative in the making of altars, and dressing saint candles. We used to use the famous resource “The magical power of the saints” by Rev. Ray T. Marlborough but at the other level. My “son” bonded physical planes and ritual candles to perform better blessings. It depended on the day, the color of the candle, and the purpose of the client. The majority were Saint blessings for evangelical churches.

But the most effective and best-sold item we offer through our business was evocation rituals. We often summoned the Angels (Archangels, Kabbalistic Angels, and Holy Guardian Angels) in order to bring prosperity to our clients, and the majority prospered a lot as they bought our evocation rituals services frequently. It was indeed a success that we put an FAQ section on our website that was mostly about the evocation rituals and we sought to buy all the ingredients we had used for Father Aaron Leitch, and the saint evocation rituals were mostly used in the way of bringing prosperity to evangelical churches and their “missionary work”. The entities did not last late to act, once summoned, they sought to behave so violently and bring prosperity to our clients.

I even had fun with my two little children. With their innocent wisdom, they helped me to grow my business and we obtained a budget of more than $1.5 MDD.

BRIAN AND HIS CHILDREN DONATE $200,000 USD TO LUIS ROMERO'S MINISTRY IN ARGENTINA

With just $1.5 MDD, I didn't know what to do with that money, since I had prospered with my business, but suddenly after, my son proposed.

—Would you like to donate to this church— He told me about a historic evangelical church in Argentina that was affiliated with the Evangelical Church of Rio de la Plata whose leader, expelled from a PCA church became an ordained minister within this mainline protestant denomination, wanted to reform biblically his new denomination but needed for economic resources—

—Hey!— I said—That's a superb idea!— Where is that church located?

—He 's located here in La Plata (Argentina). We need to contact him, I have his contact information— my daughter responded—

We took a journey through La Plata (Argentina), and we reached that clergyman. What was his name? His name was Luis Berner Romero Sánchez, a former member of the PCA (Presbyterian Church in America) who was expelled from his church and denomination after his unrealistic ideals, he was then received by the Evangelical Church Of Rio de la Plata and ordained as a pastor. Luis is now working as a clergyman within this mainline Protestant denomination and is raising funds for the "Latin American Confessing Movement", a project that is specifically looking to reform the mainline protestant missions in Latin America and seeks to reform his new denomination after being rejected from his family and his other denomination.

—Hey dude—I said to Rev. Luis Romero— I heard about you on the internet—

—Oh, really?—Replied Rev. Luis Romero— It's nice to hear that (your name please?)—

—Muschietti—I said—Brian Albeiro Muschietti Rendón— Replied my full name—

—Tell me, what is offered to you?— Asked Rev. Luis Romero— Who are they?

My two children appear to him.

—Oh, those are my children—I said— Teona and George—

—Nice to meet you Teona— Rev. Luis Romero greeted Teona— Nice to meet you George— Rev. Luis Romero greeted George— Well, let's take a seat and talk!—

We talked a lot with this man, he said to me that he left his last denomination due to his lacking convictions, and needed to reform his mind and change his thoughts. Ups, I always forget about it, he was not a PCA member, but an Independent Presbyterian Church member. He told me he was originally from Chile, but moved out to Argentina after being expelled from his Independent Presbyterian church. After being rejected by his family (both maternal and paternal sides), his only hope was his wife's family. In the beginning, she was a non-practicing Roman Catholic lady, but after meeting her new husband's convictions, she decided to be a conservative Evangelical lady on her husband's side. He said to me:

— "I will definitely leave the Independent Presbyterian church behind if I marry a conservative Catholic woman"— Those were his thoughts.

His desire was fulfilled, and behold, she appeared in his life, and fell in love with both.

My wife, my congregation, and I are raising funds for the Latin American Confessing Movement, a Latin America replica of the original confessing movement in the United States within mainline Protestant churches. He told me he was invited by delegates from the Institute on Religion and Democracy and Presbyterians Protecting Life. So, he accepted the offer and earned a Master of Divinity degree at the New Holland Theological Seminary, a theologically conservative seminary within the Presbyterian Church (USA) that is well-known for paying $100 USD/hour to their employees and faculty. After coming back to Argentina, he then decided to make a turn back to his new denomination, the Evangelical Church of Rio de La Plata, in order to bring to Argentina the Confessing Movement. In the beginning, he intended to reform his new denomination, but after that, he decided to reform himself.

It was then that my children and I were offering him an offer that he would never be aware of! We donated at least $200,000 USD to his fundraising. He was not convinced about what to do with this money, but my daughter questioned with crudity his convictions, humbling him.

After having donated $200,000 USD to that rare fundraising, Teona told me that the convictions of that man were not solid and that she would become an atheist for his cause.

In our business home, Teona proposed to me to call upon Saint Ignacio of Loyola, that he would partner with the Angel RAZIEL in order to convince him to come back to his old denomination, that the saint and the angel tell him "Come back to the Presbyterian Church".

So, we evoked such a saint and such an Angel and suddenly, the evocation made Luis Romero have a vision like Apostle Paul.

Rev. Luis Romero was facing indeed a revelation from Saint Ignacio of Loyola, and the Angel RAZIEL.

—What the heck are these?— Said Luis— Who are these?—

—This is Saint Ignacio of Loyola— Said the spirit of Saint Ignacio de Loyola—

—This is the Angel RAZIEL— Said the Angel RAZIEL—

—Behold, we have been evoked by a family of three summoners in order to give you addresses and revelations, you will need to compel with our commandments, or you will regret your soul in hell forever!—

The words then increased fear in Luis Romero, when he suddenly began to have just two options: To do what the entities demanded of him or to dwell in the eternal fire through an infernal party.

—OK, I am all right— Luis replied to the entities of Saint Raziel and Saint Ignatius of Loyola— I will do what you want, but please, don't take me to hell!

—-Do not worry Luis— Replied the Angel Raziel—- You shall not fear anything, because the Lord is behind us and you are likely to live a Holiness and Purity-filled from now via serving him and speaking to him directly.

—-OK—-Replied Luis Romero—-What is supposed I to do, oh Most Holy Raziel, O Most Holy Ignatius of Loyola, servants of the Lord?

—--Have you heard about the Latin American Confessing Movement?----

—-Yes, that's the movement I am trying to explode, I want it to spread in Europe and Latin America. I thank the Lord for hearing my prayers! He is interceding throughout you, and I will do what you will tell me. Will you give me those seasoned Bible verses for my cause? I received $200,000 USD from a stranger and his children who came to my church here in La Plata. Now, what's the next step?

—Luis, we will help you with your desires, but in order to meet the basic qualifications for the fulfillment of your petitions, you need to fulfill some requirements.----

—-So, which are the requirements?---- I think I need to read the Bible the most —-Welcome, Luis Romero— It is then when the entities disappear, and Luis is supposed to have a blessed life.

—Honey, who were you talking to?---- Asked Luis' wife—-

—-Can you guess with whom I finished speaking?!---- Yelled joyfully Luis Romero—

—-Did you receive a letter from a pastor, a minister, or a missionary?----Will he come to Argentina?

—Nope— Said Luis— They were an angel and a saint— They will guide us through!

—Through what?— Luis' wife was skeptical about that strange success—- Are you kidding me?

— My life, I don't lie to you!--- Replied an enthusiastic Luis Romero—- We will be guided by spiritual entities to help us better within the process of the Latin American confessing movement—

—Did you conjure up demons?!—Asked a nervous Romero's wife—

—NO!—Replied Luis Romero—They were a revelation to me, it was from God's will that His Angelic servants appeared to me directly. Don't be nervous, the Lord has spoken to me through His Holy Angels, I think we are in good hands!—

—Sweetheart, I remember you a lot from when we first met. You were some kind of different person. But now that you left the church from where you were, I am more afraid of you my love. If you keep it this way, I think I want a divorce.

—Please, my love—Replied Mr. Romero—We will get out of this, we received $200,000 dollars and we are doing a good job, my lovely wife.

—I think you must accord with your thoughts—Said Romero's wife—You're scaring me—

He was a little shy and frustrated about his wife's sudden repudiation of that revelation from St. Ignatius and Saint Raziel. So, there was a proposal for me by Theona, she wanted to summon the Spirit of a Saint through a Guardian Angel, an Angel, or an Archangel, as long as they were led by the modality of an Angel with a Guardian Angel, an Archangel with an Angel or an Angel with an Archangel. Researching about the Angels, we preferred to summon Metatron and behold create the spirit of Saint Catherine of Siena, the patron saint of women in the Catholic Church. One night, Metatron appeared to Luis Romero's wife, and she suddenly wanted to forgive her husband for having dealt with him for that revelation.

The evocation rituals for Saints were not like the Hoodoo or Voodoo rituals. This method of Saint Conjuring was considered as some form of Alt-Magick

Having read some evocation ritual books as well as taking courses for evocation (The Ganush-Lewis suggested I take some courses of occultism if I wanted to summon spirits for myself, they told me that there existed several Occult courses that were offered at some public universities in Latin America). Mr. Lewis suggested I study at Doc Solomon's University, a mystical occult university located in Florida, USA. So, I decided to buy the course "Solomonic Magick 101", and the course on the Book of Abramelin, which were indeed two popular courses at the moment. So, knowing the Voodoo and Hoodoo way of Folk Catholicism, I had learned that this kind of magickal system just summoned other spirits than the saints, and on occasions, those spirits were demons otherwise. So, after having summoned the spirits of saints in the Enochian way, I and my two children decided to take the courses on the Book of Abramelin, then the Solomonic Magick 101 course.

Results? I was directly hired by the University president to offer a course on Alt-Folk Catholicism!

The Alt-Folk Catholicism was indeed an alternative to those left-hand-lead Folk Catholic systems, such as Benedicaria, Voodoo, Santeria, Candombe, etcetera. Alt-Folk Catholicism was the Abbreviation for “Alternative Catholic Folk Magick”. This course was then converted into an occult science degree program within Doc Solomon’s University’s Bachelor of Science in the Occult.

The results, by the end of the year, I had an estimated income of 300,000 USD per year. Then, I and my children moved our business base to Argentina and moved out to Ave Maria, Florida, where we established our business “The Protestant Summoner”.

Alt-Folk Catholicism consist of the following rituals per option:

- A Roman-Catholic-Enochian Rosary: This is a rosary that, just like the Marian rosary, just recited the Our Father, the Ave Maria, the Glory Be, and the Apostle’s Creed in Enochian language, replacing thus the traditional, costly, difficult Enochian system, which required years of experience, money, and even reading! One of our first clients in the USA, named Fernando Robles, had bought the Roman Catholic-Enochian Rosary to abstain from being a sexual predator to a little prodigy girl.

- A Solomonic Novena: Based explicitly on the Ars Paulina, The Keys to the Gateway of Magic, and the 142 Angelic Sigils, my daughter made up a Solomonic Novena to All Saints. A basic, easy-to-use, and simple method to summon the Solomonic Archangels to form the spirit of a Saint from the Roman Catholic Church. The tools? Two altar candles, a sigil of the Angel to summon (on this occasion, an Angel and an Archangel), and an image of the Saint to be formed the spirit. It was called the Solomonic Novena. However, this wasn’t as effective and unique as the Enochian Novena

- The Enochian Novena: Based on The Angelical Language Volume II from Aaron Leitch, the two siblings designed an Angelical-written novena for the 142 Angels through sigil and folk magick to appear. While the Solomonic Novena was specifically to summon and invoke the Saints of the Roman Catholic Church, the Enochian Novena was designed indeed for the summoning and invocation of the Kabbalistic Angels (the seven Archangels and the seventy-two Angels). The Solomonic Novena was bought one day by a young woman from El Salvador who, after having finished high school, she had gained a scholarship to Martin Luther University (an independent, and theologically conservative higher education institute in the European Union), where she would possibly work at a local non-profit in the country where Martin Luther University was located. While the Enochian Novena was bought by a university professor from Costa Rica after he needed some inspiration for a conference in Kentucky called “The Protestant Ethic and the Spirit of Capitalism” at the Headquarters of the Presbyterian Church (USA).

These three rituals for Alt-Magick (Alternative Magick) were simple and cheaper to use. These three rituals were offered in my courses “Alt-Magick 101: Alternatives to Folk Catholicism” and “Alt-Magick 102: Alternatives to the traditional, costly magickal systems”. I also included a course addenda (a community of Alt-Magick practitioners and students of my course in which I could post my own “Angelic Dairies”).

Candle magick was also part of the simple, easy, and cheaper rituals for the summoning of the Saints. While you organize your altar, you put an image of the Saint you want to summon, a candle with the color associated with them, and finally, an offering you want to take (such as a cake, a flower, or water). Mysteriously, when I summoned the Spirit of Saint Peter (the Fist Pope of the Catholic Church), with an offering of cake, and a soft drink glass, the spirit of such a Saint drank and put into emptiness all that soft drink glass, and the piece of cake disappeared like it was a magical show. So, it was something effective to mix candle magick with Alt-Magick!

Brian gets a job in Florida; courses taught at Doc Solomon’s University

When I just got contacted by Fr. Aaron Leitch, he immediately hired me to teach some courses at Doc Solomon’s University! Teona and George were excited to move our business to Florida!

We had to go to Buenos Aires, Argentina to get our passports and get all the visa procedures ready for our trip. I was being offered an EB-4 visa for religious workers by Fr. Leitch, as the job offer was a religion-related job. The fees were higher at 50,000 USD. However, as I had a budget of 85,000 USD, It was worth it.

Once in Florida, we were urged to stay somewhere in the state. Immediately, we found Ave Maria, Florida (a place where “Only Roman Catholics can live”[1]). Once the business was installed in such a town, we conjured up the Spirit of the Virgin Mary, calling upon the three Archangels of the Catholic Church (St. Michael, St. Gabriel, St. Raphael) to rule over our stay in the US so we could get more clients at a glance, and meet new people online and in-person both on Doc Solomon’s University in courses on Alt-Magick and Folk Protestantism. Well, Folk Protestantism was not such a big thing, as my cousin was an independent Baptist young man who struggled with his mental health, and found the cure to his obsessions through the art of Alt-Magick. My cousin, in fact, was considered the “Latin American Dee”, so I would consider myself the “Latin American Kelley”, so he had summoned the spirits of the 16th-century reformers as well as the Mormon prophet Joseph Smith, and I promised him to summon the Saints of the Catholic Church through the 72 Angels of the Kabbalah and the 7 Archangels. But at this time, I only called upon the beatified Archangels of the Catholic Church (St. Gabriel, St. Michael, and St. Raphael)
